- Overhead coverage extends almost three feet beyond the opened liftgate to provide additional overhead protection.
- Provides shade and shelter.
- Decreases work space glare.
- Side panels have zippers to allow the vehicle's dutch doors to be in the unpinned, fully open position.
- Vinyl rain gutters attach with velcro around the liftgate strut to form a rain-water diversion; water flows down the vehicle-door channel and out the bumper drain hole.
- No guy lines or anchor weights to trip over.
- Compact and easy to stow.
- Entire set-up stuffs into a 26" bag.
- Side panel windows have interior flaps which can be open for visibility or closed for shade.
- Brow has velcro sewn on, ready to receive the optional brow cover.
- Handy built-in instructions.
- Pockets provide additional storage for radios, pagers, cell phones, etc.
- Patented.
